Te Rā Makete

Classes are in full production mode making a range of products in preparation for Market Day! It has been great to see the enthusiasm and the excitement of our tamariki as they have worked through this process. Market Day is next Wednesday 9 September, where products will be available for our tamariki to purchase.

Depending on the Alert Level next Wednesday will depend on whether whānau will be able to come into the Market. If we remain at Alert Level 2, unfortunately we will not be able to open our Market to whānau and the community. We really hope we move to Alert Level 1 so we can invite you in! However, if we do remain at Alert Level 2, we appreciate your understanding as to why we would not be able to accommodate this.

Children are welcome to bring their money into school on Wednesday, which will be transferred to CNS Dollars to spend. A video will be posted on Seesaw this Friday explaining this process. A digital brochure will be put on Seesaw on Monday, advertising the products for sale. This will be a great opportunity for you and your tamaiti to view what's on offer in preparation for their buying.

COVID-19

We continue to receive regular and sound advice from the Ministry of Education and Ministry of Health in response to COVID-19. Here are a few reminders:

- Good hygiene practices are essential, which include, regular hand washing, coughing and sneezing into your elbow
- Children should stay home if they are sick/unwell. Similarly, if a child becomes unwell at school, we will call you to come and collect them
- We are maintaining a rigorous cleaning schedule throughout the day at school, which also includes our normal after school cleaning practice

Did you know?

Did you know our kura is the oldest kura in Palmerston North? Our school was first established in 1872 - one year after the establishment of Palmerston North. This heritage is reflected in our Māori name, Te Kura Tuatahi o Papaioea - The First School of Palmerston North. Our kura was originally located where the Cobb Hotel is, before it moved to Campbell Street and then moved again to our current site in 1922.

Korero Māori

In The Whare, the tamariki have been playing a maths game called Loopy. Loopy is a game where each child has a card with two different numbers. One child starts by asking a maths question, followed by children looking for the answer on their card. If they have the answer, they then ask a question based on the second number on their card. The game goes in a 'loop' until all questions have been answered.

The Whare have been using this game to practice their reo for money. Here is an example: Kei ahau te kotahi tāra, waru tekau hēneti (I have $1.80). Kei a wai te rua tāra, tekau hēneti? (Who has $2.30?).

Daffodil Day

Thank you for your amazing and overwhelming support for Daffodil Day. The school was a vibrant sea of yellow with a large number of tamariki and staff wearing yellow in support of this very worthy cause. Last year, we raised over $200. This year, we raised over a whopping $600!!!! That is absolutely remarkable and we sincerely thank you for your generous kindness and awahi. Photo - Akomanga 10.

Communication

Our current Disposition for Learning focus is Communication. Communication is all about how we communicate with people. This term the context underpinning our learning of this Disposition is our Market Day. Our tamariki are learning to communicate to an audience through a range of advertising language features and methods, to sell their products.

Dispositions are more than just school based - they are what we use and live by every day. What does communication look like for your whānau? No doubt you use a range of communication tools - face to face talking, text, calling, social media, writing, body/face language. We also experience a range of communication tools every day, such as, advertising, billboards, radio, social media, Youtube and more!
